DAILY DISPAICH

VOL. XLVII.

RICHMOND, VA., MONDAY, JANUARY 11, 1875.

Richmond Dispatch.

MONDAY JANUARY 11, 1875.

THE CIRCULATION OF THE DIS-PATCH IS LARGER THAN THE COMBINED CIRCULATION OF ALL THE OTHER DAILY the 16th of February, when peremptory NEWSPAPERS OF THE CITY.

THE WEATHER on Saturday was cloudy and threatening during the forenoon, but the Circuit Court of Rockbridge county clear and cold in the afternoon and at night. Between 6 P. M. and midnight the mercury | sedeas awarded. fell fourteen degrees.

Range of Thermometer at the Dispatch office January 9, 1875.

From Powhatan.

[Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.] POWHATAN, January 4, 1875. To-day, despite the bad weather and mud, large assemblage attended the County Court. Very little business was transacted, notwithstanding that Judge Farrar sat in a case in which it was not proper for the county judge (who was counsel in some part of it) to preside.

In the evening a meeting of the farmers took place in the court-house, which passed resolutions opposing any change in the tcbacco-inspection laws, similar to those passed vs. Hoyer & Ludwig. Decree in conformity in Amelia, Cumberland, Buckingham, and with the written opinion of the court, disother tobacco-growing counties. As the to- posing of the exceptions to the commissionbacco region has, in point of fact, no representation in the Legislature, as the carpet-baggers and negroes do not care for or know nothing about the substan- ples settled in said opinion. tial interests of the county, it seems to be eminently proper that the Legislature should heed well the resolutions of these meetings. Although some of the speakers spoke in the highest terms of Governor Kemper, which was applauded by the meeting, a resolution was passed disapproving of the recommendation in his message that the counties pay their own criminal expenses; which would be very oppressive and disastrous to the Southside and other negro counties of the State. Two criminals are in jail charged with burglary, and Judge Dickenson will probably bave his hands full at his next term. A fight, excited by whiskey, somewhat enlivened the monotony of the day.

EXPLOSION OF A POWDER-MILL-RAILROAD Accident.—Paterson, N. J., January 8.— The works of the Rendrock Powder Company, at Black Oak Ridge, were blown up last night by the explosion of a barrel of renrock, which shattered buildings in the immediate vicinity.
